Three killed as car and lorry collide

FLOWERS are lining the road at the site of an accident which killed two teenagers and a Woburn Sands mother-of-two on Friday.

Lewis Cook, Mary-Anne Wykes, both aged 16 and from Marston Moretaine, and Genevieve Reason, from Woburn Sands, were killed when the car they were in collided with a lorry in Beford Road.

Police were called just after midnight to the incident near Sheeptick End. All three were pronounced dead at the scene.

Two other men were taken to hospital but have since been discharged.

Friends, family and colleagues have paid tribute to the three.

A 'lucky escape' at Audi

BY JAMES AVERILL

james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

WORKERS at an Audi showroom had 'a lucky escape' after up to 20 cars fell through a roof onto the workshop floor.

Firefighters were called to the dealership in Northfield Drive, Northfield, at 12.38pm on Monday after part of the roof collapsed.

The building was safely evacuated during the terrifying incident and nobody was injured.

When emergency services arrived they had to prop up the roof to stop it completely caving in.

The £8million building opened last November, 11 months after construction work started.

Speaking exclusively to MK NEWS, Jason Cranswick, the commercial manager for Jardine Motor Group, which owns the showroom, said this is the only one the group operates that has cars on an upper floor.

Mr Cranswick said: "We are just so thankful that everybody came out of the building unhurt.

For more on this story
Visit mkweb.co.uk/news

"The building is not open for trading and won't be until the investigation is done.

"We will, over the next 24 hours, be able to understand the extent of the damage. It does appear to be contained to a small area of the roof section at the back of the building.

"We still have a number of vehicles in the car park above the workshop and it was only those few that went through. The rest are still there and they will need to be removed by crane over the coming days."

According to Audi, the building was 'specifically designed and constructed in 2014 to include a car park above the workshop area'.

In a statement on its website, the company added there was 'nothing unusual' about the number of vehicles parked on the roof at the time of the collapse and that the load was 'within design limits'.

The building was designed by SDA Architects. Its director Martin Fryer told MK NEWS he was 'somewhat taken aback' when hearing news of the collapse.

The building work was completed by BDB Design Build Ltd. Its managing director Nick Goodson said: "I can confirm that we were the main contractor for the project.

"Unfortunately investigations are still ongoing so it would be inappropriate to comment further."

‘Homeless’ man spat at and kicked

A MAN, who is believed to be homeless, was punched and kicked in the head and spat at in an assault.

The 48-year-old man, who residents have said is homeless and often hangs around the shops in Melrose Avenue, Bletchley, was outside the Best One shop when he was attacked.

He suffered grazing and cuts to his head in the incident, which happened between 12.40pm and 12.50pm on Saturday.

One resident, who did not want to be named, said: “I did not see anything, but there are often homeless people around the shops.

“I don’t think they ever cause too much nuisance or deserve to be attacked.”

Another resident, who also wanted to remain anonymous, added: “I think it was a group of young boys. It is a vile thing to do to anyone and I hope somebody knows them.”

The first offender is white and was wearing a cream Fred Perry jacket and blue jeans and was carrying a yellow JD Sports bag.

The second offender is white and was wearing a navy jacket with stripes on the bottom of it, blue jeans and black Air Max trainers.

Police would like to speak to anyone who witnessed the assault or saw what happened before it happened.

Anyone with information can contact the Thames Valley Police Enquiry Centre on 101, or call Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Trio jailed for burglary after four-month, £50,000 spree

BY SARAH LEE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

A GANG has been sentenced to a total of 14 years in prison for conspiracy to burgle more than 20 family homes in the city.

The three were found guilty following a trial at Aylesbury Crown Court.

Carl Torano, 31, of Downdean, Eaglestone, was sentenced to six years.

Donovan Shippey, 36, of Shaw Road, Blakenhall, was sentenced to four years and six months, while 29-year-old Elizabeth Barker, of Northridge, Eaglestone, was sentenced to three years and six months.

The defendants were charged with conspiracy to burgle a total of 22 properties in Milton Keynes between October 4, 2012 and February 13, 2013.

They included nine burglaries in Middleton; five in Walnut Tree; two in Monkston; two in Kents Hill and ones in Springfield, Milton Keynes Village, Shenley Lodge and Emerson Valley. Investigating officer, Det Con Matthew Bly of Local CID based at Aylesbury Police Station, said: “The total value of items stolen was in excess of £50,000, including damage made to properties when breaking in.

“During some offences the offenders turned the properties upside down while looking for items to steal.

“The offences were carried out mainly during the daytime when the owners were out, although one victim woke to find a torch being shone in his face by an intruder – a truly terrifying experience for the victim.

“The offenders, led by Torano, targeted family homes in the area and stole easily disposable property, including electrical items, jewellery and cash.

“The offences were linked to the defendants through mobile phone calls and text messages. We also stopped a vehicle belonging to one of the offenders, which contained property from two of the burgled houses.

“There was limited forensic evidence, such was the planning involved, and these burglaries were clearly well orchestrated, especially those where substantial property was stolen as a vehicle would have been required to transport the proceeds.

“Only painstaking analysis of the evidence and input from a large number of police officers and staff allowed the investigation to be driven forward and charges brought against the defendants.

“These criminals had no regard for their victims and maintained not guilty pleas at court. The judge was provided with the victim personal statements completed by the victims prior to his sentencing and commented in court on the impact these offences clearly had on them. It’s no surprise such strong sentences were handed out.”

Carl Torano, Elizabeth Barker and Donovan Shippey were all jailed for conspiracy to burgle

Flowers have been left at the scene of Friday's fatal accident

Tributes paid to victims of crash

Family, friends and employers speak lovingly of the three people killed in a horrific crash on the old A421 and about their loss

THE employer of Genevieve Reason, a mother-of-two from Woburn Sands, paid tribute to the 32-year-old.

Genevieve was a front of house manager at Formula Fast Karting in Bond Avenue, Bletchley.

Joint owner Phil Stanley said: "She was a lovely person and had a very vibrant personality. She was absolutely devoted to her children and always seemed to be doing something for other people, including a record-breaking attempt to raise funds for Children In Need.

"She will be sorely missed by guests, staff and all who were fortunate enough to have met her. We are truly shocked and our thoughts are with her family at this very sad time."

Tributes have been pouring in for Genevieve on Facebook.

James Smith said: "Don't know what I'm going do without my best mate.

"I will always cherish fond memories we have shared over the years past and present. Such an amazing woman, her personality will live forever."

IN A statement the family of Mary-Anne Wykes, 16, from Marston Moretaine, said: "Mary-Anne was a loving daughter, step-daughter and sister and a massive hole has been left in all of our lives by our devastating loss.

"Mary-Anne was a beautiful, popular, bright young woman with aspirations to become an air hostess and the world will be a darker place without her in it. She had a massive friendship group and lit up the lives of everyone who knew her.

"We have so many happy memories we will treasure forever of our wonderful girl. Words can't describe how much she will be missed."

Friends and family members held a vigil in her memory in Cambourne, Cambridgeshire, on Saturday night.

Further tributes were paid to Mary-Anne on Facebook.

One teenager said: "Thinking of all of those who have lost such a young and beautiful girl. xxx"

Another added: "My heart goes out to the family, life just isn't going to be the same. xx"

A TRIBUTE issued on behalf of the family of Lewis Cook, 16, from Marston Moretaine said: "Lewis was an ambitious, outgoing, cheerful young man, with a loving, caring and generous nature. He brought a smile to so many faces with his cheeky sense of humour. He will be missed dearly by all his friends and family."

Ray Ragoonana, 24, from Bedford, who studied music technology at Bedford College with Lewis told MK NEWS: "We would often create music together. He was an extremely ambitious and creative young man. For a 16-year-old, he had his head screwed on. He knew what he wanted in life.

"His motivation was really inspiring. He motivated me and I'm much older than him.

"The last time I heard from Lewis was 2pm the day before he was killed. We were arranging to do college work the next day. Lewis was such a positive and good person. He will be greatly missed by all his friends and family. As a tribute, I plan on releasing my next music video in his name."

Lorry driver dies after crash on the M1

IT HAS been a week of chaos on the M1 after a number of accidents, including one in which a lorry driver died.

The man, who has not yet been named by police, was killed after an incident on the northbound carriageway between junctions 13 and 14 at about 7am on Friday.

The collision involved two articulated vehicles – a Renault HGV and a Volvo HGV. The passenger of the Renault, a man from Northampton, was declared dead at the scene.

The driver of the Renault suffered injuries and remains at Milton Keynes University Hospital.

The driver of the Volvo did not require hospital treatment. The road was shut for more than eight hours as investigations were carried out by the emergency services.

A man remains in the John Radcliffe Hospital in Oxford with serious head injuries after his Fiat Ducato flatbed lorry collided with a stationary car transporter on the hard shoulder.

The incident happened near junction 15 at about 10.30am on Monday, closing the M1 in both directions in MK.

And yesterday morning a lorry caught fire on the northbound exit road in MK.

Call police on 101 with details about the incidents.

Sort out underpasses

I'M EMAILING after reading the article praising MK's underpasses ('Less crime on the city's redways', MK NEWS, May 27).

I enjoy cycling with my 20-month-old daughter and we always use the redways and underpasses but sadly many are in total darkness.

We ride during the day and going through them you can't see the floor at all – very unsafe for many reasons.

I think Milton Keynes Council urgently needs to address this matter before someone has an accident or gets attacked.

Join walking scheme

LIVING Streets' Walk to School Week is over for another year and we'd like to thank everyone in Milton Keynes who contributed to it being another massive success.

More than 7,500 pupils from over 250 classrooms in Milton Keynes took part enjoying the many benefits of the walk to school.

However, just because the week of celebration is over, it doesn't mean you have to stop.

Walking to school all year round can save money, teach children independence, road safety and social skills and is an easy way to build activity into a child's day.

More children walking to school also means less traffic congestion and tension around the school gates, making it safer for everyone.

For those who live far away from the school, we know parents are keen to see further investment in schemes such as Park and Stride, a popular way of walking the final 10 minutes of the journey after parking in a designated car park.

But it isn't just down to the parents. Local authorities and schools can help parents and children walk to school all year round by signing up for Living Streets' Walk once a Week (WoW) scheme.

Once again, a huge thank you and congratulations to everyone who took part in this year's Walk to School Week – with your help we'll achieve our goal of making the walk to school safer and easier for everyone. For more information on WoW visit www.livingstreets.org.uk/wow

His column written exclusively for MK NEWS

If you go down to the woods today...

WHO would have believed it was possible, in the heart of Milton Keynes, to travel back in time to an ancient woodland full of wildlife and secrets from a bygone era...and park the car for free.

Believed in part to date back to the end of the last Ice Age, Howe Park Wood at Tattenhoe is a mystical treasure to behold.

Believed to have been mentioned in the Doomsday book in 1086, the thicket was bought by the old Milton Keynes Development Corporation in 1968.

Active management of the woodland by The Parks Trust means this once impenetrable area is now buzzing with insects, rare birds and wildlife.

Taking a walk along the atmospheric unlit paths at dusk with the dog is a magical – and somewhat eerie experience – with all the sights, smells and sounds a complete contrast to the rest of the New City.

Wonderful woods: Bluebells are just one of the attractions at Howe Park

Owls, woodpeckers, foxes, badgers and deer are just some of the wildlife that have made the wood their home and there's a feeling of a thousand eyes watching as you walk through their habitat.

A fascinating new £500,000 Centre for Learning has recently opened at the wood. The building features specially constructed nooks and crannies designed to encourage a variety of insects.

And best of all, once you've finished walking the dog, you can stroll over the road to the Nut and Squirrel pub and enjoy a refreshing pint!

Several nature events and organised walks are planned at Howe Park Wood. Visit www.theparkstrust.com for full details.

The scene in Stony Stratford High Street after the structure collapsed in the blustery weather

Wind brings down scaffolding

STONY Stratford High Street was closed after scaffolding collapsed yesterday.

Police cordoned off the area and diverted traffic.

A building that was formerly O'Riordan Bond Estate Agents (located between The Cock Hotel and Timor Court) was undergoing maintenance work before the structure came down.

No workers were on the scaffolding at the time.

A police spokesman told MK NEWS: "It's very lucky nobody was hurt. A car has been dented – but we are just relieved that nobody was in the wrong place at the wrong time."

An eyewitness said: "This could have been extremely dangerous. Someone could have easily been injured if they were walking past at the time."

Killer had hurt women in past

BY JESSICA DUNCAN & STEPHEN PENN
editor@mk-news.co.uk

THE brother of a strangled mum-of-two thinks the probation service 'needs to take more responsibility' for not revealing the abusive past of her killer.

At the inquest into the death of Serena Hickey yesterday, the coroner said an investigation into the domestic violence history of her casual partner Darren Ellis would not have saved the 42-year-old's life, but her brother Zane Hopkins disagrees.

Ms Hickey, who lived in Emerson Valley, was killed by Ellis in the Premier Inn in Kempston, Bedfordshire, on September 13. Ellis then travelled to Atherstone, Warwickshire, and committed suicide on a rail track.

A postmortem found Ms Hickey had suffered compression to her neck after the pair had been drinking and taking cocaine. She also had trauma to the head and face.

The court was told Ellis had attempted to strangle Ms Hickey on a previous holiday in Portugal. He also had a history of domestic violence against other women.

Les King, from Warwickshire and West Mercia Probation Service, said Ellis had been in prison for drug offences in 2011 and was released on licence last year. He admitted no investigation had been undertaken into his background of domestic violence and said further restrictions could have been imposed on his licence.

Mr Hopkins said: "I think if she had know his domestic violence past she wouldn't have taken him back after Portugal, especially because of her two children. I think the probation service needs to take responsibility."

Senior coroner Tom Osborne deemed the death 'unlawful' but said the lack of investigation into Ellis' history was not necessarily a factor in Ms Hickey's death.

TELEVISION viewers may remember Danielle Hope as the winner of the BBC talent contest Over The Rainbow, which landed her the lead role in the stage version of The Wizard of Oz.

Now, she's taking on another stage version of an iconic character, The Sound of Music's Maria, at Milton Keynes Theatre.

Last week Danielle brought Campbell Park alive with the sound of music.

Also visiting John Lewis' fabric section to mimic Maria's uniform-making scene, 23-year-old Danielle told MK NEWS: "This is my first adult leading lady role – so my personal transformation coincides with that of Maria's.

"Julie Andrews is also a huge role model of mine, so to be playing the part of Maria is truly special to me.

"I've never been to Milton Keynes before, but it seems like a very diverse and exciting place. Our first show proved Milton Keynes has a fantastic audience."

The Sound of Music is at the theatre until Saturday.

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A WOMAN had to be treated in hospital after being punched outside Xscape and then assaulted again when she was on the ground.

The 25-year-old was walking near the Harvester restaurant at the leisure complex between 1am and 2.30am on Saturday, May 23.

Three men were nearby and one of them started following her.

The victim was taken to Milton Keynes University Hospital and was then transferred to Luton and Dunstable for treatment to her mouth.

The first man is black, short and wore a red T-shirt.

The second offender is black, broad and was wearing a dark blue shirt.

The third offender is black and was wearing a black leather jacket.

PC Adam Jones, from Milton Keynes Police Station, said: "We are doing everything we can to trace the offender in this incident and I would urge anyone with information to call police via 101."

Pupils' cabbies did not have ID

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

AN INVESTIGATION found cab drivers dropping off pupils at a school for children with learning difficulties didn't have ID badges and were driving faulty vehicles.

Private hire and hackney carriage vehicles were stopped as they dropped off students at Redway School.

The initiative, called Operation Impulsive, was a joint operation between police and Milton Keynes Council and took place outside the school in Netherfield last week.

Vehicles were also checked at the roadside by officers, with 12 sent to Bleak Hall to be checked by the council's vehicle testing officers. Eleven of the 12 failed for a variety of mechanical reasons.

There will now be an investigation by the council's taxi enforcement officers.

A council spokesman said: "These operations form a vital part of the work that we do to ensure that members of the public can travel safely."

It comes just three months after councillors worked to tighten up regulations following the taxi-gate scandal in which a convicted rapist had his licences renewed.

One councillor working on the regulations, Catriona Morris, said: "The public will be horrified. It would be nice if the taxi industry sorted itself out. I hope the public understand the council is doing everything it can."

Redway School declined to comment.

Shirts with pop stars on seized

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

HUNDREDS of customised T-shirts featuring pop stars like One Direction were seized from a business by police and trading standards officers as they breached trade mark regulations.

A warrant was executed at Air Raid Clothing Ltd, based in Kiln Farm, which produces garments with a variety of printed designs that it sells on eBay and Amazon through its website www.dressingdown.co.uk

Among the designs were a number of images with registered trade marks of stars such as One Direction band members Harry Styles and Niall Horan, as well as others including Beyonce.

There were 677 individual items seized from the company, which were suspected of bearing a registered trade mark that it did not have permission to use.

A Milton Keynes Council spokesman said: "If it is found that they continue to sell such items then action can be taken under the Enterprise Act."

The company will be monitored by the council over the coming weeks for evidence of any further infringements.

A spokesman for Air Raid Clothing Ltd told MK NEWS: "The company has since taken action to ensure that all our business practices adhere to the Trade Mark Act 1994, while our in-house designers constantly create original and unique artwork."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Billy Harley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Bedford, Milton Keynes & Leighton Buzzard areas and Billy is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Billy a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Legal highs ban pleases MP Iain

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A BLANKET ban on legal highs has been welcomed by MP Iain Stewart.

The new law will ban the production, distribution, sale and supply of new psychoactive substances – meaning the Home Office will not need to ban legal highs one by one.

A survey done last year – which MK NEWS exclusively revealed on its front page in June 2014 – reported one percent of people in the UK were using legal highs as a first drug of choice, but in Milton Keynes that figure was significantly higher at six per cent.

The ban was announced in last Wednesday's Queen's Speech and was welcomed by Mr Stewart, who has fought a long banning campaign.

He said: "I am glad the Government has taken this issue seriously enough to put it in the first Queen Speech of the new parliament."

"This is something I feel very passionate about. It first came to my attention after a meeting with a constituent at one of my surgeries.

"A young man, a successful A* student, spiralled into a world of drugs and addiction through using legal highs. This is a just one of the many cases around the country.

"I joined other MPs to lobby the Government to act on the sale of the drugs and I am delighted we have been able to get the law changed."

Lifesaving teacher up for hero award

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A DANCE teacher who saved the life of an eight-year-old girl who suffered a cardiac arrest in one of her classes has been nominated for an award.

Mum-of-two Nicky Molloy has been shortlisted in the Workplace Hero category of the St John Ambulance Everyday Heroes awards.

On May 9 last year Nicky was starting the warm up session for a dance class at Shenley Leisure Centre when one of her students, Summerlea Burnett (now aged 9), suddenly collapsed and went into cardiac arrest.

Nicky Performed CPR, managing to get Summerlea breathing again before putting her in the recovery position.

But when Summerlea stopped breathing again Nicky, with the help of Summerlea's mother Chris and staff at the centre, resorted to shocks with an automatic external defibrillator.

Summerlea was taken to Great Ormond Street Hospital, but is now making a good recovery and has since raised money for defibrillators in the community.

Now Nicky has been nominated for the award.

Nicky said: "Watching Summerlea continue to live her life with truly supportive family around her is a gift that just keeps on giving."

Chris added: "I can't thank Nicky and the staff at the leisure centre enough for what they did.

"Without them and their first aid knowledge Summerlea wouldn't be here today. I am so grateful."

The awards will be held on July 1 in London.

The gift of life: Summerlea Burnett with life-saving dance teacher Nicky Molloy

THE funeral of a popular chief scout at MK Dons will take place tomorrow.

Andy King died after suffering a heart attack at his home last Wednesday and the club, players and fans have been writing tributes in books of condolence placed at the reception at stadiummk and the Dons' kiosk at the centre:mk.

The 58-year-old was described as a 'larger than life character' by Dons' chairman Pete Winkelman, while manager Karl Robinson said: "Kingy was a legend of the game and he loved the sport more than anybody I've met."

Andy began his playing career in 1974 for Luton Town before making hundreds of appearances for Everton and playing for Queens Park Rangers.

He was also manager at Swindon Town before becoming caretaker manager at Northampton Town and then joining the Dons as chief scout in 2014.

The volunteers who

VOLUNTEERS' Week is taking place until Sunday. The annual event celebrates the contribution made by millions of volunteers across the UK. Run by NCVO, the week involves a variety of activities, from showcasing the different volunteering roles on offer, taster sessions and team challenges with new partners to recruitment events, awards ceremonies and launching new volunteering campaigns. Community Action:MK plays a key role in volunteering within Milton Keynes and here some of its volunteers highlight the vital work they have been carrying out across the city.

Dick Evans turned to volunteering after being made redundant

DICK Evans helps to run the Age UK Milton Keynes lunch club at Radcotte Lodge.

He does this every Wednesday from 8am-1pm and on occasions helps out at other lunch clubs when they are short-staffed.

Dick also supports various fundraising events throughout the year, including supermarket bag packs, singing events at the Peartree Centre or lunch clubs and providing refreshments at fetes.

He also helps to lead chair exercises during the winter and coaches bowls to residents of The Limes in Newport Pagnell.

After being made redundant three years ago, Dick's wife Rosemary saw an advert for Age UK Milton Keynes – he went for an interview and the next day was volunteering at Radcotte Lodge!

Last November he was put forward as 'volunteer of the year'. Volunteering has made Dick appreciate what he affectionately describes as the 'recycled teenagers' – the elderly.

He says they have a lot of wonderful memories and they are very interesting to talk to. He also gets tremendous satisfaction when he sings, along with the other members of his band, at residential homes.

Dick said: "To see the people singing along is reward in itself and it's a joy to see them enjoying it."

Josan Race is using her skills to help young people in the area

JOSAN Race volunteers as an independent visitor for young people in the care of the local authority.

She had volunteered for years within her community, but as her children are now grown up, she wanted to do something specific that would use the skills and gifts she has.

Committing just a few hours a month can have a huge impact on a young person's life.

The volunteer role that Josan now has can give a child a little bit of happiness when their circumstances are not ideal.

It can give them someone to talk to and build up trust with who they know has their best interests at heart.

The opportunity to volunteer has also allowed Josan to gain an NVQ3 qualification.

She is a single mum and has a busy life, but being able to spend some time meeting, speaking to and caring for these children has had a profound impact on her.

When asked about how her volunteering has affected her life, Josan said: "I feel good in myself. I had a tough childhood and this would have been great for me when I was younger."

LYNDA Barber volunteers on behalf of Age UK Milton Keynes and works at the Pear Tree Centre Lunch Club on Wednesdays.

A sufferer of palindromic rheumatoid arthritis, sometimes Lynda cannot move and is unable to work when her condition flares up.

This has caused her to feel housebound and as she is an outgoing, organised person she didn't want to sit at home.

She knew she could be of use to others and wanted to put something back into the community.

Lynda, pictured below, was a carer in her working life and knew that she wanted to support the elderly.

Keith's mayor of MK, that's where

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

Mayor Keith McLean

NEWLY-APPOINTED mayor Keith McLean has been doing his bit to promote the city – by appearing on Greg James' Radio One show.

He featured on the Mayor of Where? challenge on the popular radio show, in which Greg calls the mayor of a city and guesses where he or she is from.

Cllr McLean was on the show last Wednesday afternoon for almost 10 minutes.

Presenter Greg was guessing alongside fellow DJ Scott Mills and his sidekick Chris Stark.

They first thought Cllr McLean was from Essex or Somerset.

Topics of conversation between Cllr McLean, Greg, Scott and Chris included grid roads, roundabouts and famous celebrities and sport stars who are from Milton Keynes, including Greg Rutherford, Dame Cleo Laine and the late Sir John Dankworth.

They also talked about the fact companies such as Network Rail have their headquarters in the city.

Cllr McLean was also keen to praise MK Dons on their promotion to the Championship and mentioned the three Rugby World Cup games taking place at stadiummk in October.

"It was very interesting being on Radio One," said Cllr McLean. "I'm not of an age where I listen to Radio One any more. I've heard of Scott Mills and Greg James, but not Chris Stark. I said when I was made mayor that my role is to promote Milton Keynes."

Cllr Alice Bramall tweeted: "Fab to hear Keith McLean on @BBCR1 talking to @gregjames about Milton Keynes. There may be lots of roundabouts but we have one cool mayor."

MK COLLEGE will be showcasing its students' talents by holding its first Festival in the City next week.

The free five-day event – from Wednesday, June 10 to Sunday, June 14 – will be held in Middleton Hall at the centre:mk across multiple stages and tents to highlight some of the creative work being done by students.

On Wednesday there will be a Festival of Creativity with exhibitions from art, design and photography students, as well as a live fashion show.

Friday will see cut-throat competition and a close shave or two as the finest hair stylists go head-to-head, while on Saturday there will be entertainment from performing arts students.

The festival will also feature performances from MK City Orchestra and a festival of food showing off top dishes from catering students.

Dr Julie Mills, principal and CEO of MK College, told MK NEWS: "We're immensely proud of all the activities and events planned as part of the first ever MK College Festival in the City.

"The line-up for each of the five days presents a perfect opportunity for us to showcase the talent, skills and overall employability that our students continue to develop thanks to our team of expert tutors and industry partners.

"Everyone is really excited to be a part of the festival and show the community of Milton Keynes how we are transforming the lives of people through exciting learning opportunities."

Last week whilst travelling in the area and in search of sustenance, my partner and I chanced upon an intriguing looking restaurant entitled Dinajpur as Milton Keynes' first non-smoking restaurant.
Little did we know that this evening was their opening evening and we were welcomed nonetheless.
Upon entering one could not help but be overwhelmed by its charming atmosphere and the tantalising aroma's emanating from the kitchen. Once seated inside its spacious surroundings, it's easy to soak up the ambiance which instils a nice balance between western decor and traditional Indian hospitality. Instantly welcomed and made at home by the staff we ordered our drinks, (which arrived promptly) and perused the evenings menu. It contained a welcome variety of dishes without leaving one overawed. Our starters were succulent and plentiful and as we both agreed our luck in discovery of this fine restaurant, we were then dazzled by the mains. I then opted for the Lamb Chilli Massala which was electrified by the perfect blend of meat, sauce and vegetables.
My partner was practically delirious over her Tandoori Duck, which insisted, was enthused with the right combination of spices and herbs. Whilst we tried to come to terms with the wonderful gifts we had been presented with, we had the chance to relax and enjoy the overall aesthetics of the restaurant. Another welcome drink later and it was time for dessert which did not disappoint. As with the Tapas starter, we shared a dish and enjoyed our sweet enormously. It rounded off the meal perfectly and left us both ecstatic with the overall experience.
We enjoyed our Dinajpur experience so much that we agreed to partake of one more drink at the bar, soaking up the intoxicating atmosphere before leaving, happy, content and with change to spare. Thank you Ikki & his staff once again for their warm hospitality and we recommend this restaurant to one and all.

A true tale to tell: Jane Joseph and her husband Joe have returned from Guyana after finding themselves caught up in a host of troubles. Jane has now written a book about her experience

Teacher's epic tale

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A FORMER teacher who went abroad to make a difference but came back to England fearing for her safety has written a novel about her real-life experiences.

Jane Joseph, who used to work at Sir Herbert Leon Academy in Bletchley, moved to Guyana with her husband Joe, who had been born in the country, after they got married in 1991.

The duo met in a musical production of War of the Worlds at the school in 1984, but after marrying they went back to his childhood village to try and change the world.

But the unsuspecting newlyweds' attempt to build a life in the little-known South American country entangled them in a dangerous web of deceit, narcotics trafficking, murder and espionage.

Their small business development project turned into an educational charity to help the village's children in a near 20-year battle.

And Jane, 60, reveals the whole story in her debut novel, which will be released this month and she has called The ElDorado Affair.

Jane told MK NEWS: "We came back to England in 2008 and I didn't know how I was going to survive as the cost of living had gone up so much.

"I love writing and I'm a historian and writing this book is a good way to earn a living."

Joe, aged 75, added: "I had made a promise to go back to the village I came from and help them. We did that and I don't regret it because we helped a lot of people."

The book costs £15 and can be ordered by emailing janejoseph967@btinternet.com

New event serves up top prizes

RESTAURANTS and businesses from the city picked up awards at the first Buckinghamshire Food and Drink Awards on Monday.

The award for Best Gastro Pub of the Year went to The Crooked Billet in Newton Longville, while Kevin O'Rourke Wines in Newport Pagnell picked up Best Independent Wine Merchant.

The Smoke Shack in Stony Stratford won Best Newcomer and Mamma Concetta won the Outstanding Service Excellence Award.

Alfonsino Bravoco, owner of Mamma Concetta, will be flying to Italy to tell his 85-year-old mother, who works part-time in the kitchen of the Woburn Sands restaurant, about the award.

He said: "I'm chuffed. It is all down to the voters who did it of their own accord – people really do treat this place like their own house.

"We have a good concept, everything is fresh and people can see what we are doing. The customers all know each other as well, it has become a bit of a social hub.

"The plaque is up in my shop next to my coffee maker and everyone has congratulated us. I'm heading over to Italy this week for the day to tell my mother."

The awards, held at Horwood House in Little Horwood, brought together the very best restaurants, gastro pubs and independent food and drink retailers, as well as recognising venues offering outstanding service.

More than 150 businesses were nominated across 13 categories with 29,000 votes cast across the awards.

Nominated: Pip Handy and Sarah Bell from No.38 and photographer Antonella Imbimbo

VINTAGE businesses from the city have been nominated for prestigious awards – and they need your help to win.

Newport Pagnell's No.38 Vintage Emporium is through to the voting for Best Breakthrough Business in the independent National Vintage Awards (NVA) 2015 – the only ones of their kind in the UK.

Pin up and boudoir photographer Antonella Imbimbo from Bletchley is also in the running for Best Photographer.

Italian photographer Antonella, 27, runs Pin Me Up Buttercup and faces stiff competition from other photographers focusing on HMS vintage and pin up themes.

She said: "I've always had a passion for 1950s fashion. And that's what my work is all about – recreating this vintage styled photography but in a modern day world.

"This is the first time I've been nominated for a national photography award. I've never won anything so I would love to have the chance to go to the final.

"I've never been this excited to have the chance to be titled 'the best' at something. Especially in photography."

Up against the likes of pop-up club company Gin Fizz and The Bygone Photobooth Company in the Best Breakthrough Business category, No.38 Vintage Emporium has some tough competition – but co-owner Pip Handy said she is 'extremely excited and confident about the awards'.

"We were thrilled and amazed to get through to the voting stages of this prestigious National Vintage awards," she added.

"The Breakthrough Business category recognises significant progress from businesses in their first 18 months. We have been trading for just over six months."

Finalists, who will be shortlisted based on public votes, will be judged by the NVA panel on the likes of customer service, passion for vintage, representation of the industry and longevity.

The number of public votes will also determine the overall winner in some of the categories when the awards ceremony is held in Cheltenham on July 15.

MK grid roads inspire poster

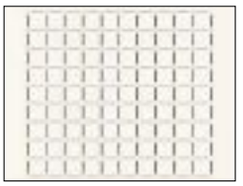
BY SARAH LEE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

A UNIQUE illustration inspired by Milton Keynes' infamous grid roads may be sold to 'lovers of art and the city' as a limited edition poster.

Andy Hall, a web and graphic designer from Peebles Places, near Barleyhurst Park, Bletchley, who designed the unique poster, said it echoed his personal interpretation of how he sees the city.

He said: "As Milton Keynes is a unique and artistic city, it makes sense to base an illustration on it.

"The poster is almost exactly like the Milton Keynes grid system – 11 horizontal lines north to south and 10 east to west broken up by circles that represent the roundabouts."



Andy, 35, who has worked as a graphic designer for 16 years, works for Milton Keynes-based Travel and Events agency P&MM but also runs his own company, Tortoiseshell Black.

A former graphic design and illustration student at Milton Keynes College, he has worked for clients such as WWE, the BBC, Toyota, MK Lightning and MK Thunder ice hockey clubs and Geeky Jerseys.

Commenting on his poster, he said: "The inspiration for the Milton Keynes poster came about from a conversation I was having with a friend.

"As a graphic designer I work with grid systems regularly and when explaining to my friend that Milton Keynes roads are based on a grid system it got me thinking.

"The poster is my personal interpretation of Milton Keynes – the city of the future. I may get it screen printed and sell it as a limited run."

Andy has won many awards for his work, including a gold award from both The Institute of Promotional Marketing Awards Employee Recognition Programme and an Eventia Award for Best Consumer Marketing Programme.

WHAT DO YOU THINK TO THE POSTER? WOULD YOU BUY IT?

Testing times: An engine is assessed in one of the new state-of-the-art test cells at Intertek in the city

Driving forward engine testing

AN AUTOMOTIVE engineering specialist has unveiled six new multi-million pound testing cells at its Milton Keynes facility.

Intertek has opened the state-of-the-art cells at its Transportation Technologies centre in Blakelands, which will be used to test the engines and power components (powertrains) of cars, electric vehicles, buses, coaches and agricultural machines.

At the launch last month people from leading motor companies, including Jaguar Land Rover, Aston Martin and Ford, were invited to take a tour of the new cells.

Tony Braddon, UK managing director of Intertek Transportation Technologies, said: "We can now meet customer demand for the development of new and advanced powertrains, including hybrids and electric vehicles, while attracting new business from European vehicle manufacturers and suppliers.

"This is beneficial for the local area as we are creating new jobs and bringing new customers and business to Milton Keynes."

Trip down electric avenue

BY ANDY HANDLEY
editor@mk-news.co.uk

FOUR years ago electric vehicle chargers began to appear in streets and car parks around the city.

Whether you think they are a good idea or just a pain taking up valuable parking slots they are here to stay.

Three years after the first charging station was launched Chargemaster took over operating 170 standard and fast charging points, as well as the Milton Keynes Crosslink 14 triplex rapid chargers a year ago this month.

An initiative has now been launched by Milton Keynes Council and Chargemaster to get businesses in the city to use more environmentally-friendly forms of transport – including electric cars.

To test it out, I took control of an Ultra Low Renault Zoe, a fully electric car costing around £14,000.

This nippy two-door four seater does not have a conventional petrol or diesel engine as a back-up – if you run out of power you stop.

Driving on electric is not as simple as it first appeared. Admittedly, I do not have the luxury of a Chargemaster home charging kit and had to meticulously plan each journey to include time to charge up the car.

With a 130-mile limit when the vehicle is fully charged, you soon release that Milton Keynes is quite a big place and a trip from Stony Stratford to Bletchley via Newport Pagnell will soon knock off a considerable amount of miles, plus driving at speed – like on the city's 70mph grid roads – reduces the amount of charge.

The overwhelming feeling you have is fear that the next top-up is not a five minute stop at a garage to get fuel, but hours charging up at the nearest plug-in point.

A rapid charger will take around a morning to get you to 100 per cent full and at the small standard charging points it's more like a day.

I do a lot of miles around the city and I firmly believe that, should you choose to go electric, the amount of chargers in the city centre would be ample to reduce your carbon footprint. And if used as a second car for the daily commute to work an electric car would be fine, with the advantages of no road tax, creating better air quality, a smoother drive and being cheaper to run.

The cost of the Chargemaster Polar tariff is just £12 per month, with varying combinations of charging credits, while the standard tariff is just £20 a year, but you have to pay extra depending on what type of charger you use. There is also a smart phone app without subscription.

A home fitted charge costs from £125, but you still pay for the electric.

An electric car won't be for everyone but for some it is a suitable alternative – you just have to stop people with gas guzzlers from parking in front of the charging points.

HOW YOU CAN USE YOUR PENSION TO ELIMINATE INHERITANCE TAX ON YOUR DEATH

Since 6 April this year we have a new pensions regime in place known as Pension Freedom the major advantage of which is the ability for savers to access their money purchase pensions 100%.

One of the biggest benefits is the new ability to pass on pension assets outside of the saver's estate for Inheritance Tax purposes. This means that overnight pensions offer wealthier people a tremendous opportunity to legally avoid Inheritance Tax!

The following 6 steps show how anyone with a pension and whose total assets exceed the tax free Nil Rate Band of £325K (£650K for a married couple) can reduce the effect of death taxes by simply rearranging their assets and prioritising their spending.

1. Maximise your pension contributions.

The current annual contribution allowance is £40K but you can use the last 3 years' unused contributions and make a larger contribution in the current tax year as long as you have the earned income to support the payment.

2. Beware of the Lifetime Allowance limit

Not only is there a contribution limit but also an overall cap on how much you can have in your pension of £1.25m which falls to £1m from 6.4.16. The tax penalty on exceeding this limit is high. So make sure you are not in danger of exceeding this limit.

Tony Byrne
Financial Planning Director
Wealth And Tax Management

3. Make sure you can live on your non-pension assets
4. When you die you want to minimise your non-pension assets above the tax free £325K Nil Rate Band (£650K for married couples). You could use savings and investments to generate income rather than your pension.

Consider giving away assets

If your pension is well funded and you have sufficient non-pension income to live on, think of reducing IHT by giving assets away. This will reduce your IHT further.

5. Consider Inheritance Tax efficient investments

Some investments become 100% Inheritance Tax free after 2 years because they qualify for a tax relief known as Business Property Relief. You need to take advice on these investments because they are high risk.

6. Write a will

It is vitally important to at least draft a will. You should regularly review and update your pension death benefits nomination too.

lightsout

NOT seeing my food certainly heightened my taste buds at the Dine in the Dark night at Calcutta Brasserie in Stony Stratford.

It was a lovely ambiance in the restaurant and the set menu offered a selection of starters, mains and desserts, which were fun to eat wearing a blind-fold. You don't have to do this all night as you still couldn't see what's in your food in the candlelight.

The food was gorgeous – I had never had an Indian style cheese starter, or such tender lamb and chicken. There was also plenty of it and we were offered more.

The service wasn't excellent as there was a long break between our poppadoms and starters and a drink we asked for never arrived. However staff were very friendly and the theme is great for anyone looking for a different kind of meal. And at £19.95 each for three courses it was great value. Jessica Duncan

OUR resident pet expert AMY CONVERSE – a vet at Vets4Pets in Bletchley – writes her monthly MK LIFE column. In this latest article she talks about the importance of vaccinations

ARE yearly vaccinations really important? In a word, the answer is yes!

In cats feline leukaemia is a disease which can be easily prevented. The other vaccinations that are given annually prevent upper respiratory infections, which can lead to recurrent problems with both the respiratory system and other body systems.

Dogs are vaccinated yearly for some infections but for other vaccines can last up to three years.

It is important to make sure your pet comes in yearly to make sure all of they are protected against preventable diseases.

Rabbits are also vaccinated against diseases such as myxomatosis. Again, this is a disease which is fatal in rabbits and preventable.

The other important aspect of a yearly checkup is the physical exam done by the vet.

This allows the vet to find out about problems earlier, along with preventing other conditions such as external and internal parasites.

What Your Agent Has To Say

Kathryn's Caring Service already helping people move ....

Since its relaunch in Milton Keynes last month, Kathryn Mountcastle Properties has visited and valued properties for a number of people who said they called Kathryn because she offers a completely different style of estate agency service. Providing personal support and advice throughout, Kathryn is on hand to reassure and assist in any aspect of selling your property and as the Caring Agent, she will go out of her way to ensure the service she provides is tailored to the needs of the particular individual she is working with.

When Kathryn launched in the City in 2004 one of the first properties she successfully marketed and sold was a 2 bedroom detached contemporary bungalow in Western Rd, Fenny Stratford owned by an international businessman who had been trying to sell his property for months with a number of local agents. Having soon been given the property to sell on a sole agency basis, Kathryn's commitment and individual marketing methods enabled her to locate the right buyer for the property and complete the sale for her client.

So when Kathryn Mountcastle Properties was recently instructed to sell this 2 bedroom semi detached bungalow in a village north of Milton Keynes, it was as if history was repeating itself, only this time the result has been even faster, just 48 hrs to sell! Kathryn has sold properties all over Milton Keynes and the villages, and with her introductory low fee of just 0.5% to sell any property, why not give her a call or drop her an email to see if she can help you too, with her friendly, caring and personal service.

Vauxhall Set To Launch New Viva

With a familiar name, cheeky looks, generous equipment and a level of quality that confounds at a sub-£8k entry price, the new Vauxhall VIVA arrives in showrooms next month, just four months after its Geneva Show debut. It competes in the A-segment with rivals such as the Hyundai i10, Volkswagen Up, Toyota Aygo, Peugeot 108 and Citroen C1. VIVA joins Vauxhall's growing small-car family, which already includes ADAM and Corsa, but is clearly defined from these models by its value, functionality, range and dimensions.

VIVA will appeal to customers looking for value for money, but who are not prepared to compromise on quality. And unlike many of its rivals, VIVA can accommodate up to five people and has the convenience of five doors. With a 90:10 retail/fleet split, sales are predicted to be heavily weighted towards private buyers. With this in mind, VIVA will be available on highly-competitive personal contract purchase (PCP) plans for retail customers.

The name pays homage to Vauxhall's original Viva made from 1963 to 1979, and the all-new VIVA shares the original's philosophy of clean lines, durability and practicality. It is designed for modern, everyday life and at 3.68 metres long is practical and spacious providing more than enough room for up to five people.

After first appearing in the ADAM ROCKS AIR and subsequently the New Corsa and ADAM, VIVA is the latest Vauxhall to feature the new 1.0-litre three-cylinder ECOTEC engine. Specially-developed for VIVA and achieving up to 65.7mpg combined with CO2 emissions as low as 99g/km, this 75PS powertrain is smooth, punchy and efficient, and is mated to a slick five-speed transmission.

The 1.0-litre ECOTEC has four valves per cylinder, controlled by two overhead camshafts. The camshaft control is variable for the intake and exhaust sides, and combined with port injection ensures optimised gas exchange throughout the entire rpm range. This adds to both driving pleasure and efficiency.

The entire engine is designed for low friction oils with a viscosity grade of 5W-20. All of these measures ensure excellent fuel efficiency. VIVA's chassis and steering have been developed and benchmarked with rivals on UK roads to provide exceptional safety and class-leading comfort.

Like its stablemates ADAM and Corsa, VIVA will be fully connected thanks to the next generation IntelliLink infotainment system. Available from early 2016, IntelliLink allows seamless integration of Apple iOS and Android devices, including full compatibility with Apple CarPlay and Android Auto.

Also available from January 2016, as standard on SL trim and as an option on SE, will be the personal connectivity and service assistant OnStar. OnStar is already the leading provider of connected safety and security solutions, value-added mobility services and advanced information technology in North America, China and Mexico.

Customers will be able to use a broad portfolio of services provided by Vauxhall OnStar such as emergency services, roadside recovery and smartphone remote control. In addition, when equipped with OnStar, VIVA will become a Wi-Fi hotspot, enabling up to seven devices to be connected to the car network.

Available 24/7 OnStar is also there in case of an emergency – whether you can ask for it yourself or not. For example, if an airbag deploys, OnStar will be alerted automatically. An advisor will then contact the subscriber to

Via the Smartphone App, subscribers will be able to call OnStar from anywhere, access important vehicle data such as oil life and tyre pressure, remotely lock or unlock the car and (if their car has been stolen) locate it with Stolen Vehicle Assistance which can also remotely block the ignition.

The VIVA range consists of two trim levels: SE and SL, which is a trim name carried over from the original Vauxhall Viva. There will be Air Con and ecoFLEX versions of the SE trim, giving customers a choice of four well-specified models (SE, SE Air Con, SE ecoFLEX and SL).

Both VIVA trim levels feature a high level of standard equipment. Tyre pressure monitoring system, city mode steering, lane departure warning, cruise control with speed limiter and front fog lights with cornering function are standard.

Class-leading technology including ESP which features traction control, cornering brake control, emergency brake assist, straight line stability control and hill start assist are also standard across the range. All VIVA models feature six airbags, AM/FM radio with aux-in and steering wheel controls, electric front windows, electric/heated mirrors and remote central door locking.

Achieving 65.7mpg combined and 99g/km, the VIVA SE ecoFLEX gets a front lip spoiler, extended rear spoiler and ultra-low rolling resistance tyres over the entry model. It is priced from £8,170 on-the-road.

Priced from £9,495 on-the-road, SL trim features electronic climate control, Morocanna seat trim, leather steering wheel and 15-inch alloy wheels. Other highlights include six speakers, USB audio connection, Bluetooth music streaming and mobile phone portal.

Vauxhall's all-new five-door VIVA will arrive in showrooms in June priced from £7,995 on-the-road. Options available include Winter Pack (heated seats and steering wheel), rear parking sensors and electric glass sliding sunroof.

Honda Civic

MOMENTUM SHIFT

The Honda Civic has come in for a much-needed once-over, getting restyling at the front and the rear, while the interior gets higher quality fitments and a 7-inch Honda Connect touch screen. There's a Sport trim level inserted into the range to bridge the gap to the turbocharged Type-R range-topper.

Let's make note that there are some things about the Civic that are really, really good. The 1.6-litre diesel engine is a case in point. I don't think there's a better diesel; in the whole supermini sector and it continues in this car, developing 120PS, which is about the sweet spot in this market sector. Smooth, lightweight, economical, tractable, this is a gem of an engine. There's also an entry-level 1.4-litre petrol engine on offer. Also continuing the theme is the 1.8-litre petrol engine, that's good for 142PS. At the top of the range is the banzai Civic Type-R which features turbocharging for the very first time. No grumbling at the back, it's the way of the world. Every BMW is turbocharged these days and it won't be long before all Porsche and Ferraris will be too.

The underpinnings carry on largely unchanged. Which means a torsion bar rear end. Yes, I know that the Civic used to sport a multi-link rear end, but it pays to take a pragmatic view. The last Type-R was no shoddy handler and neither is the Renaultsport Megane, another proponent of the torsion bar rear end. Standard across the range is Honda's clever City Brake Active system. Designed to avoid low-speed accidents, the system scans the road ahead, and applies the brakes if it detects an impending collision.

It only works below 20mph though, so anything above that and it's down to your eyesight.

There have been a few exterior design tweaks to both the Civic hatch and the Civic Tourer estate. Gone is the weirdly modern yet somewhat bland face and in comes revised headlight units with integrated daytime running lights and a more rakish front bumper assembly. The Civic hatchback also features a slicker design for the rear bumper, side skirts, a rear spoiler finished in black, plus LED rear lamps. The sum total of these changes is that the car now looks a lot more like an older eighth generation Civic. Retrograde? Not really. That car was a little peach.

Think of this update as doing a lot with not much. The Honda Civic was one of those unfortunate cars that was so nearly right, but just needed a bit of spit and polish to come good. It just received the requisite burnishing. While it's probably still not going to threaten the Volkswagen Golf and Ford Focus for class honours, it's now a car that looks a lot classier and which features more quality indoors. In other words, your friends won't look at you and wonder what came over you if you arrive home with one.

The Type-R looks a genuinely exciting prospect, Honda determined to wrest the title of fastest front-wheel drive car around the Nurburgring away from Renault. A turbocharged Type-R might take a little bit of mental readjustment, but we're more than ready for our remedial therapy. The Civic looks good once again. For that, we're truly glad.

FORMULA ONE

Can he replicate 2014?

DANIEL Ricciardo will head back to the scene of his first ever Formula One win this weekend at the Canadian Grand Prix.

In 2014, Ricciardo passed the Mercedes of Nico Rosberg with just two laps to go to in a very exciting race. The Aussie driver is still the only non-Mercedes man who has won a race since the start of last year.

Ricciardo, 25, has always been a fan of the track at Montreal, which he describes as 'fun', and he cannot wait to have another crack at it this weekend.

"It's just a ridiculous amount of fun," said Ricciardo.

"You can jump across the kerbs and really get the car bouncing around.

"It's like getting back to go-kart days, you really feel like you own it – and I love that.

"Possibly winning has made me love it a little bit more but really I've loved it since my first lap, back when I was driving for Toro Rosso."

Ricciardo currently stands seventh in the drivers' championship on 35 points, while his teammate Daniil Kvyat is just one place behind him now on 17 points after his fourth-placed finish in Monaco a week last Sunday.

Can-do spirit: Daniel Ricciardo celebrates 2014 win

Canada is a track which has often produced exciting races in the past and the Russian is looking forward to testing his wits on the track.

He said: "It's a great place for racing. It's great for drivers and the races are usually very exciting. It's a great crowd and they seem to really know a lot about F1, which is great."

ICE HOCKEY

Lightning Cook up a storm with new signing

New signing: Josh Cook is the latest addition

MK LIGHTNING have signed highly-rated young forward Josh Cook from the Western States Hockey League in Canada.

Cook, who will mark his 21st birthday this October, is the second summer signing who has honed his hockey skills in North America but he knows exactly what to expect of playing under Pete Russell, having made an impression on Lightning's Head Coach when training with the Team GB junior roster.

Born in Kelowna, British Columbia, Cook holds dual British-Canadian nationality thanks to his parents' heritage.

He played junior hockey in the UK until the age of 12 and since then has fine-tuned his game with teams in the provincial leagues in British Columbia, Alberta and Manitoba.

Now, Cook returns to the UK to make his mark for the first time in senior hockey and help push MKL towards the top of the table.

"I was convinced that signing for MKL is the right move," said Cook.

"Pete Russell is going to lead the club in the right direction to a positive and successful future and I want to be a part of that.

"I'm totally committed in helping to cement the Lightning as one of the main players in the league, doing all we can to bring home some silverware and I'm really looking forward to playing a significant role in that.

"I want to establish myself in the GB hockey scene and ultimately achieve my main goal to represent Great Britain at senior level, and being successful with MKL could help me achieve that."

Pete Russell said he was delighted to welcome the high energy forward to the Lightning organisation.

He said: "When I knew Josh was looking to return to the UK I had no hesitation in making a move for him.

"He paid his own way to attend our U20 Identification Camp last summer.

"When I met him he was a excited, positive and very confident young man - I like that.

"Adding players like Josh adds to our depth in talent and competition for places.

"Competition is vital to the development of individuals and our team and will make our team a better place to be."

CRICKET

North Crawley lose and Great Brickhill go top

NORTH Crawley suffered a rare defeat despite a score of 85 from Matt Goss in the first innings in the Four Counties League.

He wasn't very well supported though as North Crawley were bowled out for 187.

Kyle Cunningham scored 112 not out for Biddenham in the second innings though as North Crawley fell to a four-wicket defeat.

That result gave Milton Keynes an opportunity to close the gap on the league leaders and they took that chance with a nine-wicket victory over Thurleigh.

Nimesh Chavda was pick of the bowlers with 4-18 as MK got Thurleigh out for just 96, and an unbeaten 54 from Sam Haggar gave Milton Keynes a comfortable success. They are now seven points behind North Crawley.

Milton Keynes City succumbed to a 54-run defeat at Eaton Bray which moved them down to bottom of the table, while New Bradwell lost by eight wickets to Buckland & Aston Clinton.

In the Cherwell Cricket League, Great Brickhill moved top of the table thanks to a slim, one-wicket victory over Wolverton Town.

Babar Raja scored 46 for Wolverton in the first innings as John Iqbal claimed a five-wicket haul for Great Brickhill.

But Idrees Butt also picked up five wickets himself as Wolverton put up a great fight of skittling Great Brickhill, who clinched victory in the 52nd over of a close local derby.

In the Northamptonshire Cricket League, Stony Stratford lost to league leaders Finedon Dolben by 95 runs. Kamran Anwar claimed three wickets in the first innings as Finedon scored 226-6, while Graham Simpson was pick of the batters with 29 as Stony scored 131 in reply.

ATHLETICS

EBONY Carr won the U17 ladies 100m at the Bedford International Games to leap up to the head of the 2015 UK rankings.

At the other end of the running scale is the famous Comrades ultra marathon in South Africa run from Durban to Pietermaritzburg. Martin Erasmus completed the 87.7km course with a time of nine hours 28.49, putting him 2,745th overall from a field of almost 17,000.

Marshall Milton Keynes Athletics Club's U15 track and field team took a fine fourth place at Birmingham in the second round of the Premier Division of the Youth Development League while the senior team were involved in a close match in the Southern League at Crawley where the club finished fourth.

CYCLING

BRADWELL Abbey based Madison-Genesis are proudly top of the men's team rankings in the Tour Series while Corley Cycles-Drops RT, also based in MK, are putting in some brilliant performances in the Matrix Fitness Grand Prix series.

Charlotte Broughton had to retire from the race in Motherwell with sore lungs but Becky Wormesley finished in 22nd place overall.

Madison-Genesis started the men's race in Motherwell in the Series leaders' red and white jerseys and they successfully held onto those jerseys. They finished second in Durham on Thursday and the team won in Barrow on Friday.

In Saturday's Battle of the Bowl organised by Aylesbury's Team Spirit, Corley Cycles pulled off a one-two in the U14s while Ethan Vernon finished third. In the Elite race, held over the one hour plus five laps of the MK Bowl circuit, it was very much Corley Cycles versus Team Spirit as their riders made up the bulk of the six-man group. Will Goulbourne performed the classic counter attack to sprint to win for Corley.

Defenders commit future to Championship Dons

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

DEFENDERS Dean Lewington, Lee Hodson and Tom Flanagan have signed new contracts at the club over the last week, while the permanent capture of Joe Walsh has been completed as manager Karl Robinson gets his defence into shape for next season.

Captain Lewington has signed a two-year deal and is delighted to be staying at a club where he has made more than 500 appearances.

"I've always loved it here and always been really happy," he said.

"There's a lot of big teams and a lot of top-class grounds – we are all very excited about next season."

Hodson, 23, who signed a two-year contract, said: "It's a club that's going forward so I didn't really have to think too much about it."

Flanagan has signed a one-year deal, despite playing just nine times for the club last season. Robinson said he felt the 23-year-old deserved the new contract offer.

"He's got a great future at the football club. It's a bit unfair because the boys have done so well this year that he hasn't been given that opportunity to play."

Joe Walsh has also completed his permanent move to the club from Crawley Town.

Meanwhile, former Dons loanee Will Grigg set the goal up as Northern Ireland drew 1-1 with Qatar in Crewe over the weekend. Ben Reeves was an unused substitute in the tie.

It has been a tough week at the club following the death of chief scout Andy King last Wednesday. To read more about the tributes paid to him turn to page 17.

No pain in the rain for Napier as form continues at Brands Hatch

THINGS proved to be 'the wetter, the better' for Milton Keynes-based endurance Lotus Elise sportscar team Napier Racing as they continued their season of excellent form on Sunday at Brands Hatch.

Driver Andy Napier delivered two outstanding morning qualifying sessions for Classic Sports Car Club's 'New Millennium' and 'Modern Classics' series.

He banked a first place position and he came home third in two races at the Kent circuit as 36 drivers competed in treacherous conditions at the track. The poor weather continued through to the 'Modern Classics' race.

Napier took both a convincing Class first place, but more impressively he saw off all but the fastest Porsche 911 to take home an excellent second place overall.

Later in the day in the 'New Millennium' race, the wet advantage over the more powerful cars decreased as the track dried.

Once again though, a solid performance by the team was rewarded with yet more Class first silverware and a seventh placed finish overall.

Napier Racing will return to the track in June for the Summer Sportscar Classic weekend. That will take place at the Spa Francorchamps F1 Circuit, in Belgium.
